CUTICURA HEALS LARGE PIMPLES
Face Itched and Burned. Caused Disfigurement. Could Not Sleep.

"My face began to itch and burn and then broke out in hard, large red pimples that festered and scabbed over. They were scattered all over my face and caused disfigurement for the time being. I could not sleep at night on account of the irritation. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in two weeks was completely healed after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Earl Oliver, R. R. 2, Princeton, Ky., June 7, 1921.

Cuticura Soap daily, with Cuticura Ointment occasionally, prevents pimples or other eruptions. They are a pleasure to use, as is also Cuticura Talcum for perfuming the skin.

Samples sent free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura," Dept. 550, P. O. Box 540, Framingham, Mass.

AIRPLANES' NEED OF RADIO GROWS MORE APPARENT

Will Be Great Factor in Averting Collisions in Cloudy Weather.

The arrival yesterday of the airship Santa Maria from Miami without mishap and the fateful experience of men entrapped in the planes which fell into the Potomac on the same day are contrasts in the annals of aviation. Had the airplane passengers fallen along the route usually traversed by the airship Santa Maria between Havana, Cuba, and Key West, Fla., the immediate importance of radio to aviation would be more apparent.

Radiophone equipment on airplanes is not a recent development. Just following the world war squadrons of airplanes were maneuvered by radiophone, just as a large squadron was maneuvered from his desk in the White House by former President Wilson.

Radio on Mail Planes.
During the transatlantic flight in May, 1919, the planes NC-1, NC-2, NC-3 and NC-4 were in constant communication along the route from Trepassey, Newfoundland, to the Azores and Southampton, England, with destroyers stationed every fifty miles along the ocean route. These conversations by radiophone were from men who were making the first all-by-air dash across the broad expanse of the Atlantic.

Less than three weeks ago the first trans-continental mail plane to be equipped with radiophone flew from Chicago to Washington to have a complete radio set installed here. The receiving range of this set, which is a duplicate of those to be installed on all transcontinental mail planes, will be approximately 200 miles.

Ship Has Supporting Medium.
When it is considered that unlike other means of transportation, the airplane is independent as are the radio waves of any supporting medium, other than the indefinable and today somewhat disputed ether, the need for linking the two services becomes apparent. This is particularly true in fog or rain, conditions which make aviators dependent solely upon their own judgment and the accuracy of a limited number of instruments and on radio communication.

A ship on the seas enveloped in fog has a dependable compass to guide its course, a system of bells and fog whistles to avoid its collision with other ships and, what is most important, a supporting medium, which is reasonably steady as compared with the atmosphere beneath the flying plane.

Possibility of Colliding.
The possibility of his colliding with another airplane is greatly increased in the case of the aviator, because of his inability to maintain a speed of at least sixty miles an hour. This is one three-hundredth of the velocity of radio waves, hence radio may be a means for avoiding many airplane collisions.

When flying through clouds or fog, the aviator's vision is blinded, so that his reading of instruments is not accurate. Airplane compasses are known to be inaccurate in fog, due to the unsteady motion of the airplane. The pilot sees no landmark position. The gnomometer placed on the instrument board indicates the sideways angle of his flight, although it is frequent that airplanes inclined several degrees while passing through a fog or what is considered much worse, a rain storm.

Noise Partially Overcome.
The use of radio in airplane flight introduced mechanical difficulties. Radio receiving sets are sensitive to noise and vibration. Noise is now partially overcome by specially designed head phones for receiving and by an intricate system of retardation coils and condensers, part of a filter system which eliminates to some extent the transmitting and engine noises.

An aviator is a busy individual. His hands are occupied with controls; he must watch gauges and the path ahead, one ear cocked to detect engine noises, the other must listen for radio signals.

Another difficulty is the alternate strength and weakness of signals received from a moving plane. This is particularly true during what the aviator calls "bumpy weather." The plane rises, falls and changes direction rapidly. The effect on the receiving station is signals which cannot be tuned in continuously. Experiments now under way may Pimples Keep Young Men Down!

They Make Women, Too, a Puzzle How S. S. S. Stops Skin Eruptions Positively.

Pimples and skin eruptions have a price—you pay for every pustule, black-head and pimple on your face. Pimples produce prejudice and prevent prosperity. Your heart may be gold, but your face will tell what you need is a scientific blood-cleanser. S. S. S. is one of the most powerful destroyers of blood impurities. It cures you in a short time. S. S. S. has been passed on by a jury of millions of people just like yourself. It is considered one of the most powerful vegetable blood-purifiers and flesh-builders in existence. That's why you hear of so many men and women who have lost flesh in a hurry, why you hear of so many rheumatics being freed from their scourge, why S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

CHAUFFEUR DODGED FRIENDS WAS SO ASHAMED OF HIS LOOKS

C. C. Bestes Dodged His Best Friends Because Bad Health Made Him Look and Feel So Bad—Two Bottles Reese Formula R-11 Relieved Him.

C. C. Bestes, chauffeur, 7218 Hermitage Street, East End, Pittsburgh, was in a run-down condition for four years, entirely due to indigestion, sour stomach, biliousness and malnutrition. He could not get his marvelous recovery after using but two bottles of Reese Formula R-11 as follows: "I suffered from sour stomach, biliousness and terrible headaches for over four years. Everything that entered my stomach immediately soured and formed gas. Violent headaches would follow eating, also distressing spells of heartburn and dizziness. My appetite was very poor. Medicines and doctors failed to relieve me. I lost thirty pounds in weight and looked and felt so badly that I was ashamed to face my dearest friends. "Seeing testimonials of Reese Formula R-11 in the papers, I decided to try it, little thinking that it would do me any more good than other medicines I had tried. Picture my joy when after taking but two bottles of R-11, all my ailments left me. I am now healthy and hearty in every way and can conscientiously recommend the Reese Formula R-11 to all who suffer from stomach, liver or kidney trouble such as constipation, indigestion, nervous, run-down condition, female weakness, rheumatism, etc. Such people I most earnestly advise to get a bottle of Reese Formula R-11 from People's Drug Stores or other good druggists.—Adv.
